4-H News

Mrs. Martin's 4-H News

Mrs. Martin's 4-H Club met Jan. 16. President Denise Christain asked the meeting to come to order.

We stood and said the pledge to the American flag and to the 4-H flag. Margrete Kejso led us in the pledge to the American flag and Lara McGrath led us in the pledge to the 4-H flag. The president called the recreation leaders to come and lead us in songs and games. We played 7-up and then the president asked if there was any old or unfinished news to come before the club.

Mrs. Chilton told us about public speaking and about 4-H Camp. We talked about public speaking.

The president adjourned the meeting.

4-H in Mrs. Knight's class

At the December 4-H meeting we played a game called "Save or Waste." It had to do with conserving or wasting energy. It was fun. After that Mrs. Walton showed us how to make our own wrapping paper and even homemade flowers. We drew names to see who got them. We sure did have a lot of fun.

H-Sydney receives $15,000 grant

The Hillsdale Fund of Greensboro, North Carolina has made a $15,000 grant to Hampden-Sydney College's new $3.5 million athletic center.

"We are indeed grateful to the Hillsdale Fund for their generosity and commitment to Hampden-Sydney College," said President Josiah Bunting III. "Future sons of Hampden-Sydney will benefit from the grant, as the College can now offer a place to train student bodies as well as student minds."

The Hillsdale Fund, founded in North Carolina, has general interests in the fields of education, religion, and the humanities. The foundation has also awarded grants to Davidson College near Charlotte and to Hollins College in Roanoke.
